4. COMPREHENSION PASSAGE

Read the passage carefully and answer the following questions

Happiness, after all, is an inner state of mind. It is not influenced by external factors. Happiness has very little to do, for instance, with whether you are rich or not rich. Some of the most miserable persons I have come across in my life are the rich people. It is true that poverty makes one miserable in a very acute way. But my point is that it is not wealth but co-ordination of one's thought and action which removes the inner conflict. It is in that way integration of personality is achieved.

Answer these questions very briefly :-

1. What does the writer say about happiness?
2. What has happiness to do with wealth?.
3. What are inner conflicts?
4. How is integration of personality achieved?

OR,

Write a precis of the following and give a suitable title :

A true friend always stands by you during the time of your difficulties. In your presence he criticises those actions of yours in regard to which other people ridicule you in your absence. When increase persons blame you for nothing he will boldly stand up in your defence. If misfortunes and losses compel you to lead a life in which you cannot spend as much money as you used to do before, he will feel the same pleasures in your company as he used to do during the time of your affluence Instead of avoiding you, he will be prepared to share the burden of your calamities.
